Brawl Stars is a video game set towards the Old West, developed by Supercell. The trial version of the game was released on June 15, 2017 for Canada only, while the global version was released on December 12, 2018.

The main goal of the game is to get the most trophies. Trophies can be won at different events with player-controlled characters called Brawlers; Each Brawler has special features that allow it to be better equipped for some events than others, allowing the player to adapt to the circumstances of the battle.

Trophies are very important for the player's statistics and as they are reached when winning they can also disappear when losing, they accumulate in the player's profile and based on the trophies you win, you get special rewards such as gold, power points, tokens, brawl boxes, brawlers and megacajas; There are also stellar points that are a kind of coin that can only be earned by climbing a Brawler to a certain rank or after the 500 trophies that can be used to buy special and customized items or to buy boxes for fights. As you get more trophies, the interval for receiving the rewards will increase, so will the difficulty of getting them.

The game offers different game modes to choose from, each with different objectives and strategies, called events and each event will give some rewards to the player; there are two types of events: the normal, which in turn can be permanent (Atrapagem, Survival, Brawl Ball) or rotary (Robbery, Stardust, Siege) and the weekly or special, which can only be played in a certain period of time and give as a reward chip. The first time an event is played and won, the player will receive a stellar tile, which is required to open large boxes. It is also possible to get chips for the Boxes of Fighting and experience.

At the end of a game in an event the battle results will be displayed. The normal events also have differences between them: in the event "Trapegamas" for example there are 10 players who have to fight for their lives and in this type of event you can also play alone; in "Bolon Crawl" you can play in teams made up of three players and the objective is to score a goal inside the enemy team, there are clearly other modalities and differences that you will discover playing.
