Description

When it comes to the game we find a game that more than likely will convince you from the start. And is that once you get together with other 99 players, where it is only worth winning, and everyone wants to kill you, fun can have no limits. The mechanics of PUBG MOBILE is the simplest and is that after appearing on an island, without provisions or weapons, you must seek your life, first to find these weapons, with which after you must defend yourself from the many attacks you go to suffer. Keep in mind that in the first games you will last very little with life. Every time there is a greater number of players with a lot of experience, and the novices are easy meat to eliminate an opponent. As for the advice we can give you, we must tell you that you should always be with your eyes open, be the least visible in the first moments of the game, and above all it is crucial that you get weapons with which to defend yourself. Unfortunately if you run out of weapons with which to defend yourself, you only have two options left, find a good hiding place from where you should not go or wait while sitting down to have one of your rivals kill you. PUBG MOBILE is today one of the most interesting and fun games that we can find both on Google Play and the App Store, and which you should not stop playing if you like this type of games where the action is present at all times.

Review

PlayerUnknown's Battlegrounds is a classic player versus player battle royale. The game was developed and published in 2017 by PUBG Corporation, a subsidiary of South Korean video game company Bluehole. It was first released for PC via the Steam client. The game was also released by Microsoft Studios for the Xbox One later in 2018. A free-to-play mobile version for Android and iOS was released in the same year, in addition to a port for the PlayStation 4.

The game begins with up to 100 players being flown in an aeroplane over an island. Players have about a minute to choose where they jump and land, or else the plane automatically throws them out at the end of the island. Once landed, players search for houses or buildings where they can find equipment, ammunition, armor and vehicles. These elements are arranged in a procedural way from the beginning to the end of the game, with better placed objects in risky areas of the map. With time, the safe zone on the map shrinks towards a random position, Any player outside the safe zone, takes increasing damage to death if he does not return to the emergency zone in time, which forces players to go closer to each other and encounter more enemies. During the course of the game, accidental regions of the map are highlighted in red and bombarded from above, becoming a threat to the players inside it. In both cases the players are perceived a few minutes earlier, giving them time to move in the event of an emergency. In the course of the game an airplane will fly over the game map and in accidental places it will drop a loot box containing special objects that are generally not obtainable except in this way. These crates, once fallen to the ground, emit red smoke, thus becoming visible and traceable by other players, which also leads to more encounters. The last player to be alive on the island wins.

The killed players leave a chest; inside there is the equipment of the dead, lootable. Players have the opportunity to play in first or third person, each with their own disadvantages and advantages during combat and exploration.

Thanks to the ever shrinking map players don't have the chance to hide the whole game and then just snipe the last player. That way the games never drag for too long and usually last 15 minutes at most.

✓ Pros

- The fun in PUBG MOBILE is practically endless, and we already tell you that winning a game will be something that you will have to work very hard
- The download of this game is completely free, a great advantage, although integrated purchases, as usual, are present throughout the game

✗ Cons

- PUBG MOBILE occupies 1.64 GB of internal storage so keep this in mind, especially if you are short of space on your smartphone
- The battery consumption is quite high, so you should not lose sight of the fact that every mobile device has to not surprise you

Tips

1. The Battle Royale games are here to stay, and one of their references is PUBG MOBILE, which we fear we will not be able to stop playing
2. Be cautious in the first moments of the game, and maybe you can think of victory sooner than later
3. Do not neglect your back, or trust anyone. Do not forget that there will only be one winner and if it's you, it will not be who seems to be helping you
