Google offers a good number of free apps. All of them are tools that complement each other and provide different types of services depending on the person and type of user who uses it. There are programs for each person, no matter what your need is, you will surely find a useful application within the world of the internet giant.

Hangouts belongs to this group of programs and is one of the most used by users. You can download Hangouts for free and use it on your mobile if you have Android or iOS operating systems, on your computer from your email box or as a Google Chrome add-on. It does not matter on which platform you start to enjoy this messaging service, your username, contact and settings will be synchronized without any inconvenience.

Using Hangouts will allow you to connect with all your friends and family who have a Google account. You will be able to share with them all kinds of files such as photos, videos, maps, emoji, stickers and messages.

Also if you want to make calls with Hangouts you can connect for as long as you want and at no extra cost for voice or video conferences.

You can also organize group chats that admit up to 150 participants. This is very useful if you have a small business or work or study groups to keep connected.

Hangouts is very easy to use and will keep you in touch with your entire Google universe. The speed with which it works is one of its great advantages along with the possibility of synchronizing the app on any device.

Don't miss the opportunity to add a new Google service to your life. Chat, make voice or video calls, share any type of file at no additional cost with Hangouts.

If one of your contacts is not online and you want to leave a message, there is no problem. The platform allows you to send messages even to people who are not online at the moment.

Download Hangouts for free and keep up to date with all your friends, family or co-workers.

Another great tool that the most important Internet search engine offers its users.

✓ Pros

- The biggest advantage is that it is possible to make video calls of up to 10 people at the same time. Compared to other companies, this is incomparable. - It is possible to use Hangouts on computers, in addition to cell phones. But for example WhatsApp does not allow you to connect from a computer. - It is possible to share your current location. - It has a series of emoticons and GIF animations to share with your friends. -It is possible to send voice messages, compared to Telegram, for example. - Like the instant messaging services that are safe, the conversations are stored in the cloud, ie the Internet, and we can access them if we lose our cell phone, or if we lose our mobile data.

✗ Cons

- You may have a harder time accessing the market because Hangouts had its beginnings in 2013. - It is not possible to place your profile as Invisible, compared to Google Talk. - It is only for Android devices and also with iOS. For example, WhatsApp is in many operating systems. The fact that the Hangouts system is based on a closed system, can play against, due to the low ease of expansion. - You can not send multimedia files at the moment, and this plays very against you, because Telegram, to give an example, allows you to send files of up to 1GB. - It is not possible to know if the message was received by the recipient, or if it even came from our cell phone, in comparison with the other more well-known services.

Tips

1. Sync Hangouts with your email - Hide confidential content - Add SMS capabilities - Change who can contact you - Silence notifications - Configure the widget - Send messages to your circles
