You already have a social network in which to unleash your imagination and show your followers all your creativity. This is the case of BIGO LIVE, the platform that focuses on broadcasting live videos. A community that started out with little noise but that little by little has been gaining new users and becoming one of the applications of the moment.

Live videos is a type of publication that has been gaining popularity in recent times, making the most popular social networks have adapted to the preferences of their users regarding their own voice, and live, experiences and shows of the people they follow. That is why finding a platform dedicated exclusively to this type of content has been a revolution. Download BIGO LIVE free, you can use it on both Android and iOS devices.

Launched in 2016, it has become a worldwide phenomenon, becoming one of the most used mobile applications in more than 150 countries, becoming the leading live streaming platform. In it all its users have something to show the rest of the community, they can broadcast their day to day, talk live with their followers, make group video calls or even watch the most popular videos of the moment.

One of the advantages of BIGO LIVE is the wide variety of functions it has, in which you can do almost anything through videos, such as group video calls with your friends or family, go live with another member or even participate in fun duels with which to challenge your followers.

The main objective of this social network is to form an active social community in which all its members speak and communicate with each other using videos as a medium. It is also very easy to become a real star in the BIGO LIVE application, getting money for your talent and encouraging you to continue growing in your passion. If you like a video, you can send him his famous Seeds, which are donations to that person that he can exchange for cash. This helps many artists who see this platform as a real showcase so that more people know about it and can see their effort rewarded and can dedicate themselves to what they like the most in an exclusive way.
