All sports fans asked again and again for an application that is the Netflix of sports to watch football on the internet. After a long wait, the program arrived.

DAZN (The Zone for How Its Pronounced English Sounds Sound) is a video-on-demand platform that has a fair amount of streaming rights for various sports like boxing and MMA. The application is increasingly popular around the world because you can not only see everything related to boxing and MMA, but also other important sports and leagues such as NBA, NFL, La Liga, UEFA Champions League, Copa Sudamericana, Copa Libertadores, Coppa Italy, Carabao Cup or Premier League. Unlike Netflix, DAZN not only has content available, but it also streams material directly and lives.

With a very intuitive and dynamic design, the streaming service for sports has the rights to broadcast different leagues and tournaments depending on the country in which it is used. The platform is available in Germany, Spain, Japan, the United States, Canada, and Brazil, among others. Their growth does not stop and they expect to have 22 million subscribers by 2022.

After installing and downloading DAZN, you can register or log in to the system with an existing user. To create an account, only an email address is required. On the board, you will find thumbnails and live streaming icons to choose from. You'll be able to scroll sideways to see others that may not be showing on the screen.

The platform created in 2015 by Perform Media not only has live material but we can also find documentary films produced by DAZN such as that of Cristiano Ronaldo or the pre-fights of Canelo Álvarez. Videos can be played in the background while browsing the main page. Álvarez and Ronaldo are not the only superstars in the world of sports who are part of the world of DAZN. Other celebrities related to the popular platform are Neymar, José Mourinho, or Paolo Maldini.

By downloading DAZN for free, you can find other sports such as darts, cricket, or gymnastics on the platform. It is also possible to see tennis tournaments such as Us Open, Roland Garros or Australia Open, cycling like Tour de France, Giro d'Italia or Vuelta an España or the best basketball in Europe with the matches of the Turkish Airlines Euroleague and the 7DAYS Euro Cup.

On motorcycle races, you can access MotoGP, Moto2, Moto3, and MotoE in addition to having the possibility to relive the races with exclusive and à la carte content.

If you need to organize and prioritize your interests, it will be very useful to use the available programming function (which is very intuitive). Through this alternative, you can anticipate future events. The video player is not much different from any other standard in the web world. It has a few very useful buttons and allows the option to reproduce in low quality in case the connection is not very good.

For the services and content offered by the application, it is worth the money you will have to pay for it. A full one-year subscription will cost you $ 99.99 while the monthly membership, meanwhile, costs $ 19.99. If you are not such a constant boxing fan but want to watch the occasional La Liga, NBA, NFL or Premier League game, paying monthly is just what you need. But if you are a follower of boxing, getting the special pass for the whole year is very profitable since seeing a single fight can cost more than $ 50.

The DAZN app works on any smart device such as a television, a mobile phone, a tablet, or consoles such as PlayStation 4. The application has a web page where you can expand information on it. When considering streaming quality, the content will not be affected if you watch from two devices at the same time, and each stream can be viewed at 1800p, which is Full HD standard. You can also do things like follow your favorite teams, receive notifications, and customize the app in the way that is most comfortable for you to use.

✓ Pros

- Good video quality.
- Accessing absolutely all the content they offer has a fixed cost per month.
- Copa del Rey is exclusive content.
- They don't care that you improve anything, because they provide all the content with the subscription.

✗ Cons

- Menus can be better.
- You could not download transmissions.
- Incompatible with relatively new devices.
- It consumes a lot of data.
