Review

If there is a platform that wants to lead video transmissions in Brazil, it is undoubtedly Globoplay, who has the objective of making it one of the main channels in the entire country. She has a tough rival in front of the ring who is none other than the almighty Netflix, which makes this battle a real challenge, although it is not impossible.

Brazil was the first country to have it after the United States, which has made the large streaming platforms look to it to open up to the international market. The use of this type of application is one of the best ways to watch television today, giving its users the freedom to watch their favorite videos wherever and whenever they want, finding a real alternative to traditional ways. Download Globoplay for free, you find it available compatible with Android and iOS devices.

The Globo platform allows you to view all the products produced by the company, including its soap operas, series and newscasts, as well as its entertainment programs and much more, with the possibility of viewing them on different devices, such as a Smart TV, tablets or mobile phones.

Its catalog is very varied, offering surprising and innovative products. It is a service that can be enjoyed for free with limitations in the options it offers but that includes a paid version with a cost that varies between $ 37.9 and $ 79.9 per month, depending on what you want to hire and that will influence what you can see, they both include a 7-day free trial.

As soon as you have Globoplay installed on your mobile phone, you will only have to create an account to start enjoying it, even connecting it to other devices through the application. It will automatically search for those that are available and you can broadcast what you are watching, just choose one and enjoy.

Globoplay currently offers more than 20 international series and the best films, both new releases and important film classics. Their plan is to continue increasing their offer, betting on original products created by themselves, differentiating 3 types of content: live broadcasts, programs already broadcast and, above all, their telenovelas.

✓ Pros

- Variety of content.

✗ Cons

- The catalog could be better.

- Ability to watch offline.
- Original productions.
- Access with Facebook or Google accounts.
- It works according to regions and that can cause problems.
- Malfunctions.
- It can get slow.
