Review

You can now discover the more than a thousand radio stations and free music that iHeartRadio includes, with the best musical premieres of the moment. Originally from the United States, little by little it is reaching new corners of the world and accumulating more and more followers.

It is not only a digital radio, it is a service in which you will have everything you need in a single app, adding to its great offer a large number of the best podcasts and broadcasts of live programs. Download iHeartRadio for free, you find it available for Android and iOS.

With this free application you will be aware of all the musical premieres and international events. With a very minimalist interface, it is very easy to use and totally customizable, you just have to choose the genres you want to listen to and iHeartRadio will automatically offer you all those songs that best suit your preferences.

Among its entire musical catalog you will find classic genres such as Rock, Pop, Hits of all ages or the most modern and alternative songs, even by artists from different countries and who are not so well known. Regarding its thousands of podcasts, you will always find a program that interests you, collects all the topics you can imagine, such as sports, news, politics, comedy, children's content and a long etcetera.

One of the advantages of iHeartRadio is that you can continue enjoying all its content without interruptions, even running continuously for up to 70 hours. It does this while you continue to use other applications or functions of your mobile phone, only momentarily silencing their operation when a call comes in, but resuming automatically once you hang up. If you prefer, it also has the Timer option with which to program when you want it to turn off automatically.

You can choose between the multiple radio stations that it has, these vary depending on where you are, and that they are exclusively in this app. Create your own station collection list within it, in this way you will find them quickly every time you want to listen to what is broadcasting at that moment or even configure it as an alarm clock, to start the morning well.
