Description

When entering the game for the first time, you need to create a character . He will be your avatar in the world of World of Warcraft. First you must choose a race (which determines the appearance of your character) and then a class (which determines what your character can do). Choose something that pleases you, that makes you feel comfortable. When entering the world, you will find other characters with a "!" yellow on top of the head. Whenever you see such a character, it means that he needs your help with a mission ! Talk to him by right-clicking the character . He will offer one or more missions in the missions dialog. If you click Accept, the quest will be added to your character's Mission Register. After completing all mission objectives, you must surrender it and collect your reward . See the description of the mission in the Mission Register when you deliver it. Many times you will have to talk again with the character who gave you the mission, but some require you to travel to remote lands and live new adventures. Sooner or later, you will find some assignment marked on your record as "(Group)". As the name implies, you will need a group to complete it, because the monsters are much more powerful than normal (the rewards are also much better). Even if it is not to try to end some ancient and unmentionable evil, joining a group with other players * is never a bad idea. * In fact, Taurens and Night Elves do not get along very well. We do not recommend approaching the opposing faction for help.
